

U.S. Secret Service NJ SCHOOL SAFETY SEMINAR: USING BEHAVIORAL THREAT ASSESSMENT TO PREVENT TARGETED SCHOOL VIOLENCE

Rutgers University – New Brunswick, June 6, 2024

The U.S. Secret Service National Threat Assessment Center (NTAC) and Newark Field Office are hosting a seminar on preventing targeted school violence. This event will feature subject matter experts who will share the latest best practices for implementing behavioral threat assessment programs in K-12 schools.

SPEAKERS INCLUDE

- U.S. Secret Service Newark Field Office
- National Threat Assessment Center (NTAC)
- Tony Montalto (father of Gina Rose)
- Frank Blackwell (father of Dominic Michael)
- New Jersey Department of Education
- New Jersey Statewide Threat Assessment Team (NJ STAT)

INTENDED AUDIENCE

- Teachers
- Administrators
- Guidance Counselors
- Mental Health Professionals
- School Resource Officers
- Law Enforcement
- University Faculty
- Campus Security
- Crisis Intervention Units
- School Board Members
- Other School Safety Stakeholders

Space is limited.

CLICK HERE TO REGISTER

or scan the QR Code

DATE AND TIME

Thursday, June 6, 2024

9:00 AM – 3:45 PM

8:00 AM - Light refreshments

LOCATION

Jersey Mike's Arena

83 Rockefeller Road
Piscataway, NJ 08854

Questions: NTAC-DSS-R1@uss.s.dhs.gov